One Short Day in the O2

Children from Woodcote Primary journeyed to the O2 to perform at Young Voices in central London.

By Alfie

On Friday 23rd of January. year 5 and 6 children from Woodcote primary school went on a long journey from south oxford to central London. To the O2 Arena at the world biggest choir event including singing and dancing. we got told that Dylan r who is 9 years old said that he is very happy because he gets to sing his little heart out.

At early hours in school both classes went to year 5 classroom. To get important instruction and to make sure they had necessary items for the long day ahead of them. After checking they had their lunch and dinner. They got their t-shirts then they went to get changed. After getting changed they boarded the couch to get to the O2 arena.

It was a long and gruelling journey but there were views to see. After the 2 hours in the couch to get to the O2 arena they arrived at 12:30 pm. Before going in they took a photo with there out going head teacher Mrs Liz Hunt who was joining them for the last time When they got in, they went up 8 flights of stairs then they found a place to eat their lunch. then when they finished they their lunch, they found their seats and went to the toilet. There, they got introduced to David Lawrence the conductor, craig McLeish the musical director and Gigi Marley the presenter.

After they meet the team, they then went to rehearsals they sang the pop mealy, wicked mealy and disco fever then they eated there diner when the parents were coming in to watch the performance Alfie who is 9 said "the lights blinded him but his favourite song was stargazing in pop mealy" at 10:30 they went home and Mr Langley who is 40 said he said he was so sleepy he found it hard to match children with their parents.
